

Common Program Requirements (Residency) Sections I-V Table of Implementation Dates

The effective date of the major revision of Sections I-V of the ACGME Common Program Requirements is July 1, 2019. However, because Sponsoring Institutions and programs will need time to comply with some new requirements, no citations will be issued on those requirements before July 1, 2020.

Programs, in partnership with their Sponsoring Institutions, must begin working toward the implementation of all new elements immediately. While citations may not be issued on these areas until 2020, Review Committees may issue Areas for Improvement (AFIs) related to these requirements in the interim.

Note: Philosophical sections and background and intent are not included in the table below, as they are not subject to citation.
